Fred Bear Sports Club Opposes "Guns of Autumn"

The letter below was sent to CBS Television Network on September 4, 1975.

We the 14,000 members nationwide of the Fred Bear Sports Club protest your pre-programming promotional spots for "The Guns of Autumn" and believe that they violate the fairness doctrine under which you are licensed in that they project a negative viewpoint toward the sport in hunting in both your title "The Guns of Autumn" and in the manner in which you warn that this program is being shown with parental guidance recommended.

You imply a negative viewpoint toward hunting even without the program being aired and we demand, in the name of America's 18,000,000 hunters that you provide us with equal time to show the American public the positive side of hunting and further that you provide us with an equal amount of gross rating point promotional spots prior to the time of our programming.

Four Arraigned Here On Shooting Charge

Four Detroit area men stood mute at their arraignments last Tuesday before Judge Francis L. Walsh on charges of carrying concealed weapons. All are identified by police as members of the "Forbidden Wheels Motorcycle Club" and were arrested Saturday night, August 30th, after Roscommon County authorities issued an alert for their van in connection with the wounding of Michael Smith, 20, of Detroit, a member of the Highwaymen Motorcycle Club, in Houghton Lake Village.

Those arrested were Thomas Alcock, 25, Detroit; Ronald W. Laginess, 25, Inkster; Craig Kinnert, 28, Detroit; and Roy A. Warner, 25, Detroit. All four are being held in the jail on $10,000 bonds each. Alcock also faces a charge of illegal possession of drugs.

The shooting incident in Roscommon County is still under investigation, according to an aide from the Prosecutor's office.

James J. Jenkins, 37, of Gaylord, was bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of trying to burn real estate, in other court action. He was arrested August 24th.

Bear Introduces New Compound Bow

INSPECT NEW BOW—Fred Bear and Norm Groner, Bear Archery's Bowyer, carefully look over one of the first Polar II Compound Bows produced. Shipments of the Polar II, the latest addition to the Bear line of quality bows, have already begun.

Bear Archery has announced the introduction of their New Polar II Compound Bow. The bow is an economically priced Compound with features not found on some of the most expensive ones. In making the announcement, Robert Kelly, Executive Vice President, stated: "The Polar II is our second generation of Compound Bow. While designed to sell at a price most archers can afford, it still provides as many extras as possible, combined with durability and high performance."

To arrive at the bow's present configuration, over 50 designs were built and tested. Strain gauges, chronograph, and high speed photography and a mechanical shooting machine all were used in the design of this new Compound.

Featured on the Bear Polar II is a fast, simple weight adjustment system. Peak weight can easily be set in the field for 35, 50, 55 or 60 pounds without affecting the tuning or efficiency of the bow. With a break-off of fifty percent, the Polar II allows you to comfortably take the best shot and still have the speed to make that shot count. The 48" overall length, a draw length of 28" to 30 1/2", a new super-quiet Bear Weatherst (tm), all help to make this a great hunting bow. Lightweight eccentric wheels for reduced weight and added speed, new Bear Limb Base Pivot Assemblies for precise limb alignment, and Bearglass (r) and wood - composite laminated limbs, all combine for best performance. Add to this excellent cable clearance, a sight window cut 11/32" past center for a true center shot, and a newly designed magnesium handle with Granite Gray paint electrostatically applied and baked for a lasting finish.

The Polar II has a long accessory list. The bow is drilled and tapped for the Fred Bear Kodiak Quivers, and also features a Converta - Accessory Insert for a Bear(r)Converta-Bowfishing Rig, or a Hunting Stabilizer. The bow is equipped with a standard hand grip but a High and Medium Grip are available as accessories. Bear has a New Assembled Compound Bowcase that will take the Polar II with Bow Quiver and Arrows installed. Also available are protective hard cases, called the Fred Bear Compound Caddy, Bearstrand No-Stretch Kevlar Bowstrings, a Bear Tool Allen Wrench Set and Bear Compound Camo Sleeves.

For more information on the Bear Polar II, or any other item in the Bear line, write for a free 48-page color catalog to: Bear Archery, Rural Route One, Grayling, Michigan 49738.

Grayling Elementary School Opens Smoothly

It couldn't have been better! Our school opening was extremely smooth this year. Through the cooperation of the staff, parents and students we skillfully mastered the process of getting all 645 children nestled into place, Melvin Nunn, Principal stated.

One of the biggest challenges we face each year is the busing of our Kindergarten children. Few people realize the time involved in scheduling and placing these children on their buses. After hours of careful planning by our bus coordinator each driver drives his route and identifies the location of each child's home, Nunn added.

Pictured above are some of our bus drivers checking their list of addresses before loading for the trip home.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1975

From Our Corner.....

Our week started out as we expected following a dismal Sunday — blah —

Then as the day progressed the silver lining began to show through the overcast sky with a climax on learning that our good friends from Georgia, Howard and Norine Cogan were in town.

We spent an enjoyable evening with the Cogans, who brought along their two lovely granddaughters, Jan and Cathy Toms, also of Georgia, and Mildred (Andy) Elliot of Bay City, who with her late husband Sid, were former caretakers of McClanahan's Lodge some years ago.

It was brought to our attention the other day by a local citizen with a question. How come there is not a side-walk from the end of Michigan Avenue to the Hospital entrance when so many people, nurses, visitors, and children have to walk that way?

It is a good question — possibly our city fathers can supply the answer, we can't.

It is difficult for us to get involved over the controversial TV program "Guns of Autumn", only because we were never introduced to the challenge of being a hunter in our youth.

Whatever this documentary was proposed to do — it was evident it was an anti-view of a true sportsman, and was produced in support of the restricted gun law.

We do not hunt, never have, and never will, but, we own arms for our own possible protection — to own these is one of the stipulations in our constitution along with freedom of the press.

Editor's Mailbox

To the Editor:

With regret that things are as they are and realizing that some would be hurt, such as Mary Mathews and her family, I must answer her letter published in your paper last week.

To qualify myself I must first state that I am now 69 years of age and first came "North" with my father at age seven when a sawmill stood about where the Grayling City Park is now located. Therefore the changes are not new to me.

The Public Access site (not campground) was never intended to be a campground by the DNR or the old Conservation Dept., but a few people did use it and no problems resulted until the influx of many many people to the great vacationland in the north. Then the problems started and has grown out of hand. With this overflow of people came the litter and the thoughtless and thus, after all, will ruin the pleasure of everyone.

Blue Gill Lake is a beautiful spot and my purpose along with all of the people who own and pay taxes to Crawford County, is to keep it so. I do not think Mary Mathews realizes that on July 4th of this year 53 camps were set up there and many were dumping their waste into trenches dug in the ground leading to the lake - A call was made by me (I believe I am "The man on the lake" who she refers to) to the DNR and the Health Department because in no way can a lake of 22 acres stand this kind of pollution.

The DNR had them pull tubs and pails under their trailer outlets but it was only a short time after the officers left that the tubs were removed again - There are no sanitary facilities at the access and also no water.

Now to the really serious problem - I would ask many to refer to the Sheriff's Department, to the State Police and other law enforcement departments as to the number of times they have been called to this access site because of "Pot parties", drinking bouts and the latest, a man now being held for attempted murder, about which she can read on the front page of the Avalanche.

Dear Editor, I did not relish carrying out the wishes of my fellow neighbors on Blue Gill Lake because as I said it must hurt Mary and others like her.

Sincerely,
Al Pochelon
Blue Gill Lake

Proclamation

Hunting and Fishing Day

Because of the outstanding contributions that America's hunters and fishermen have made to conservation, recreation and the economy, they are deserving of special recognition.

Since the turn of the century, hunters and anglers have been the leaders in nearly all major conservation programs. These sportsmen - conservationists are responsible for the founding of state fish and game departments in all 50 states. They asked that they, themselves, be required to buy licenses and that the money collected be used to support state conservation agencies. In the last 50 years alone, these sportsmen have provided $2.5 Billion for conservation programs.

Hunters and fishermen asked for the establishment of regulated seasons and bag limits so that sportsmen could harvest the annual crop of game and fish without damage to the basic breeding population. The result has been that there are now more deer, elk, antelope and wild turkey in the United States than there were 50 years ago. Further, sportsmen's programs have benefited numerous species of non-game fish and wildlife through habitat development.

Hunters and fishermen, unique in all America, asked that their fishing and hunting equipment be taxed and that the money be used for land acquisition, research and habitat management for fish and wildlife for the enjoyment of all Americans.

Through their publications and organizations — such as the National Wildlife Federation, Ducks Unlimited, Izaak Walton League of America and many others — hunters and fishermen have led the nation in the battle for a better environment and the wise use of our natural resources.

Therefore, I, Derek E. McEvers, Mayor of the City of Grayling, do hereby proclaim Saturday, September 27, 1975, as National Hunting and Fishing Day and that this day be an annual observance the fourth Saturday of each September. I urge all of our citizens to join with sportsmen - conservationists in a rededication to the wise use of our natural resources and their proper management for the benefit of future generations. Further, I urge all citizens to take part in Hunting and Fishing Day activities on September 27 to learn more about conservation and outdoor skills.

Date: September 3, 1975.
Derek E. McEvers
Mayor of the City of Grayling

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Judgment Seat of Christ

Beyond this life, the Judgment Seat of Jesus Christ is a certainty for every Christian. "Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad." II Corinthians 5:9,10.

Details of this judgment are given in I Corinthians 3:11-15. Although the context shows ministers being judged in I Corinthians 3, the clear teaching of Romans 14:10-12 and II Corinthians 5 reminds us that all Christians will share this same judgment.

All believers are building lives each moment they live. We build with two kinds of materials, spiritual and fleshly. The spiritual materials are called gold, silver, and precious stones and characterize all the work done through us by the Holy Spirit in accord with the Bible. The fleshly materials are called wood, hay and stubble and characterize all work done through the self efforts of the flesh. These will no doubt also include many good deeds done for selfish motives. These materials are used in the Bible to describe the reaction of each group to the fires of judgment. While one group is proven true and purified by the fires of judgment, the other is destroyed and proven false.

Many Christians put on a good front before the eyes of other people, but there is a day of reckoning coming when every motive and desire behind every deed will be made manifest for all to see. "Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is."

Faithful spiritual work done for the glory of God and not selfish motives will receive eternal rewards. "If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward." Part of this reward will be the position we will receive as we rule and reign with Jesus Christ during the 1000 year reign here on the earth. Revelation 5:10. (See also the parable of the Talents).

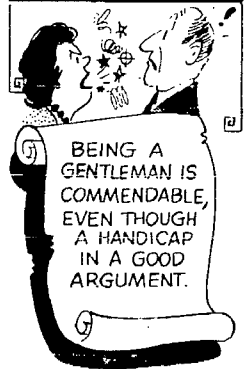

It is possible for a Christian to see all his spiritual works rejected and destroyed by Jesus Christ someday. This is a very sad and sobering thought. No Christian will lose his salvation at this judgment because we are saved by faith in the finished work of Jesus Christ and not our own works. Yet, how terrible to face Jesus Christ empty handed, in light of all He did for us. "If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire."

The goal of salvation is not "to shun Hell, gain Heaven and play a harp," but rather to be molded into the image of our Lord Jesus Christ. Romans 8:29. Our goal should be to please God, Revelation 4:11, to bring glory to Him, I Corinthians 10:31, and to finish the work He has given us to do, John 17:4 and Ephesians 2:10.

And now a word to the unsaved, "For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear? I Peter 4:17,18. (Adv.) Pastor Barnett

Deer Hunting Format for '75

During Michigan's 1975 deer hunting season November 15-30, there will be, in effect, three different antlerless hunting periods. The collective take of antlerless deer in all areas is expected to be 11,365 with bucks-only hunting in the Upper Peninsula. Of 61,910 permits to be issued, the Department of Natural Resources predicts 49,290 hunters will go after antlerless deer in the various management areas. Hunters are reminded that midnight, October 1, is the deadline to postmark applications for permits to hunt antlerless deer in these areas. Sportsmen will receive application forms at local license dealers when they buy their 1975 firearm deer license. Instructions for filling out these forms are also available at local license dealers.

"Main Stream Musing"

WHAT'S KUCHEN?

[By Jaymee Seidel]
Somewhere along the way,
cooking has become a shameful activity. It's in a class with smoking now, an unfortunate habit that we really ought to try to break.
If you get a hangnail or a faucet starts to drip, it is clearly a Kentucky Fried Chicken day.
If you don't want to spend all your days on the tennis court and serve your family a can of soup every night, you are Nellie Numbskull.

One company proclaims there are "Seven reasons for serving our frozen casseroles." One reason for each night of the week, so you never have to learn to cook at all. Tuesday's is "Jim and Lynn for dinner," a frozen beef and ravioli casserole. Why bother? Why don't we just let them thaw their own casserole and phone us for the conversation? Wednesday's excuse is "Your night to watch TV," so of course you serve the frozen macaroni and cheese because getting ready to spend an evening watching TV is so exhausting you couldn't be expected to cook dinner.

So it goes until Sunday,
"Take it easy day." Presumably, standing over a hot stove all week adjusting the oven temperature to 450 degrees has been so trying that on Sunday we are entitled to something really special: frozen meatloaf!

A woman who likes to cook is looked upon as some sort of throwback, a missing link in Darwin's chain of evolution.
You know, I feel positively evil chopping my own vegetables into chunks for my homemade beef and vegetable soup. What makes me want to do this, I ask myself, when I could buy a can of soup that's just as chunky, and besides gives my family the added nutritional benefits of monosodium glutamate and caramel coloring?

It's enough to make some of us cry, and that's just what one woman did at our last monthly meeting of Bakers Anonymous.
"Oh," she sniffed, "I don't know what gets into me. But sometimes I just get an uncontrollable desire to see yeast dissolving in warm water, and before I know what I'm doing, there I am ripping the little packet open!"

"I know, I know," I soothed.
"Last night I had this irresistible urge to make shortcake biscuits from scratch. But I hid them under some strawberries and prayed no one would drop in."

"Last Thursday," another girl began, "I actually boiled macaroni, then made white sauce and shredded cheese, when could just as easily have opened a box."

"You've all been backsliding, I admit," said the last baker to confess. "But Tuesday, I really fell down. I baked my own bread, and..." (her voice fell to a whisper), "not from frozen dough!"

A hush fell over the room. We looked at her with a mixture of fear and admiration. Finally, we set down our cups of real porked coffee and filed silently out of the meeting. But there must be a spy among us. On the way home, I drove by her house, and the NOW pickets were already in her driveway...

Logging Safety Demonstrations

Loggers in the AuSable Valley Counties are invited to a special "Forestry Techniques" demonstration. The demonstration will be held on Wednesday, September 17 from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The location is Section 17, T 25 W, R 1 E (Oscoda County), 4 miles west and 3 miles south of Luzerne.
Watch for signs.

Mr. Lars Varland from Husqvarna, Sweden will demonstrate safe use of a chain saw. Mr.
Varland is a former working logger with a forest technicians degree. Lars travels the world searching for new methods, techniques, and equipment for chain saws.

In Sweden, woods workers are required to take a training program in forest techniques.
This program emphasizes the proper use of tools and equipment. Such items as noise arresters, eye shields, hard hats, safety shoes, knee and shin guards, and special safety gloves are required in Sweden.
Lars will demonstrate work techniques for felling, limbing, and bunching jack pine. The emphasis will be on the safety of the logger and how to most efficiently complete the job.

Following the demonstration, soft drinks, beer, and polish sausage will be served to the loggers. The demonstration is being sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service and L.W.
Meyer and Sons.

Jobless load signals social change

What happens when people are out of work?

Calvin Coolidge achieved a place in most collections of historic quotes with his alleged comment that when people are out of work, unemployment results.

But so do a lot of other things,
according to a recent study by a couple of researchers named Dorothea and Benjamin Braginsky, who surveyed jobless middle-class men.

Unemployment exacts a heavy mental toll, they found.

Many felt they were "unwanted by society," the men, who had worked steadily for 20 years, "felt small and spoke the language of insignificance," according to the Braginsky study, as reported in the magazine
Psychology today.

Many felt "suddenly confused, disillusioned and betrayed," as well as "discarded by the very social institutions in which they had once placed their trust."

The study showed that even men who later found work said the new job had not eased their cynicism toward society; their self-esteem never matched the levels of workers who had not been laid off in the first place.

Among the results listed under
"lasting wounds" were these—disruptions in life-styles, changes in political beliefs, diminished sense of personal worth, and lack of confidence in the social order.

From a personal standpoint, I've been unemployed for only one period in my work life, and although I don't think the "lasting wounds" were as significant as those reported in the Braginsky study, I can attest that being out of work when you want to work is no fun at all. A lot of odd things go through your mind during a time like that.

My personal view is that most folks who find themselves laid off after years of toil would prefer to earn their living than survive off welfare-type programs.

If the Braginsky findings are accurate—and there's little reason to think they're not, then, today's wave of persistent unemployment can mean some upheavals in the social order in the years to come, including the political preferences of a significant number of voters.

And while we're pursuing the sociological vein, how about these views on the younger elements in today's society, as expressed by John Silber, president of Boston University, in a recent newspaper interview:

"Consider a society in which artificially aged and worn blue jeans sell for more than new ones."

"The younger generation finds a special value in the costume of poverty and disarray simply because these aspects of life have become far scarcer for children of the middle class than good clothes and comeliness."

"Just as French aristocrats at the time of the French Revolution took great delight in dressing as peasants and cavorting in bucolic roles, our young people affect the costumes of poverty; in their horizon, the poor are little more than a romantic abstrac-tion."

I don't know whether President Silber has hit the nail right on the thumb, but so far I've not been able to come up with a plausible explanation for why old jeans are of more value than new ones...why patches are better than whole cloth...why it's so great today to wear ill fitting and cumbersome bib overalls when as a boy I wouldn't wait to get into regular overall pants and shuck the bibs.

Mr. Silber may be right; if he is, today's young folks may have quite a jolt when they reach the realm of the unemployed, such as those cited by the Braginsky study quoted above.

At that time, and for those folks,
the poor may be "far" more than a "romantic abstraction." If you're out of a job long enough, aged and work clothes may be all that's available.

The shrine of the jockstrap

The recreation director in my favorite town recently accused some parents of forcing their children to play baseball when the kids would much rather do something else.

Most Big 10 football coaches are angry because they are no longer allowed to put uniforms on 100 brutes for a game requiring 11 players.

There's a connection. It's called muscle worship.

Why would a father force his son to swing a bat at a ball when the boy would rather read a book? Dumb question. Did Mickey Mantle read books?

Why would a young man want to strap himself into several pounds of leather pads simply to sit on a bench in uncomfortable obscurity with no chance of getting in the game, short of a holocaust wiping out 15 other quarterbacks? Another dumb question. Do you expect him to swagger into Joe's Bar & Grill Saturday night and brag about the concerto he heard that afternoon?

This is a nation queer for jocks. Almost everyone adores at the shrine of the torn ligament. Our numbered gods are so securely heroic they can wear pantyhose on TV without casting doubt upon their supreme masculinity. But a little kid doesn't dare say no thanks, it is dumb to get knocked down and trampled while running with a stupid ball. His buddies would call him a pansy and his embarrassed father would ship him off to a muscle camp named after a million-dollar fullback where off-season coaches guarantee to make a superstar out of Junior (lights out at 9 p.m. for fear some little egghead might try to read something harder to spell than X and O).

That's the way it is in this he-man civilization, from before puberty to beyond senility. We are raised believing there is something special about athletes. They get all the girls, make all the money and get invited to the White House. Every father wants his son to make the team. If he can't, then Junior at least better be a raving fan, ready to worship batting averages and dunk shots.

I am as stupid as the rest. Over 30 years ago, when all the good players had gone to war, I won a city tennis championship. I still brag about it today, and I still have the medal. When I earned a college degree I didn't even go to commencement exercises to pick up the diploma and this will be the first time I ever publicly admitted I graduated with honors.

It's ridiculous, but it's a fact. We are a nation of saps who cast more votes for all-star teams than we do for President.

Taxpayers spend millions to build sports places in cities where the libraries must close early in the winter because there's no money for fuel oil.

U of M football coach Bo Schembechler makes headlines by sobbing his grief at not being allowed to reward his scrubs by letting them masquerade as varsity on Saturdays. Thousands of young people want to become doctors and lawyers but there is no room for them in the universities, Saturday or any other day. Who is sobbing loudly for them?

The recreation director reported telling parents their sons weren't interested in playing baseball and it was risky to force them because the bored kids might get hit by passing balls while daydreaming in the outfield. But the parents answered: "Oh, but he's got to play."

Why?

So Junior will grow up knowing the quickest way to heaven is through the lockerroom and the surest sign of success is the jockstrap.

Onward and Upward.

Jack Pine's Stump

My typewriter has decided to act up and just plain doesn't work as it was programmed to, a matter which will drive my editor nuts. But then I suppose that typewriters, like people, just can't be depended upon to act in a normal manner. Yeah, I'm in a lousy mood, not only because of the typewriter, but for other reasons all about which you will read about below.

-JP-

Friday night, after suffering through another Detroit Tiger game (won), I watched a horror/CBS TV News production called "The Guns of Autumn". I was disgusted, revolted, and damn near threw up. I have never seen a TV anti-hunting film so prejudiced, dishonest and just plain rotten as that one. It was narrated by Dan Rather, one great commentator and interviewer. He's the guy who gave Ex-President Nixon such a hard time in the White House interviews. But then Nixon deserved it; but Rather screwed up on this TV show. He certainly didn't know what the hell he was talking about, but then maybe he was just following a script written to match the film. I'll grant him that much, unless he's one of those weirdos who has never hunted, but thinks he is an authority on the subject.

I'm sorry, friends, if I bother anybody, but I am a hunter myself. Not necessarily a killer. But the CBS presentation only presented killers - and not in a very good light. That show only presented the idiot fringe of the hunters - like about two percent. There was about as much honesty in that show as there was in that NBC production of a few years ago - "Say Good Bye", a film of such total dishonesty that the sponsors wouldn't even release copies of the videotape. CBS probably won't either. That leaves ABC - a net which just might do an honest job, and tell what the hunters really do - supporting game management, living by the code of hunting and supporting the many groups, including the Fred Bear Sports Club, which have made hunting a decent sport in this country.

I'm sorry if I offend anyone, but I've done a lot of professional guiding for hunters, and once or twice I've seen what CBS showed, but I have stopped it, just as any intelligent guide would do. To me, hunting is just being in the woods in the beautiful fall, stalking game, using just your intelligence against the animal's instincts in its own environment. Of course, I use only a bow and arrow now, because, to me at least, the hunt to me is a lot more important than the kill. If I've gotten close enough to a deer, for instance, to get a decent 35 yard shot, it doesn't make one damn bit of difference to me whether I hit or miss. I have accomplished the hunt - and that's what hunting is all about. And that's something these hotshot reporters with the big networks have yet to learn.

-JP-

After "The Guns of Autumn" was over I went to the John, fully planning on throwing up, but other matters somewhat interfered (not irrelevant to the TV show). One of my sons came in, said he'd seen the program and that he'd never hunt again. After a quick wipe, I gave him a detailed lecture on the manufacturing of propaganda, and what that show had REALLY been all about.

I'm outa space, so peace and love from..... JACK PINE

SAMPLE PUBLIC RELEASE

The Crawford AuSable School District today announced its policy for Free Meals and Free Milk, or Reduced-Price meals, for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, Special Milk Program, and U.S.D.A. Donated Foods Programs.

Local School officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

TOTAL FAMILY SIZE	A		B
	SCALE FOR FREE MEALS AND FREE MILK		SCALE FOR REDUCED PRICE MEALS
1	3,230		3,231 - 4,520
2	4,240		4,241 - 5,930
3	5,250		5,251 - 7,350
4	6,260		6,261 - 8,770
5	7,190		7,191 - 10,060
6	8,110		8,111 - 11,360
7	8,950		8,951 - 12,530
8	9,790		9,791 - 13,700
9	10,550		10,551 - 14,770
10	11,310		11,311 - 15,840
11 Each Additional	12,060	Each Additional	12,061 - 16,890
12 Family Member: 12,060	12,060	Family Member: 12,811	17,040

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for (free meals and milk, or reduced-price meals). In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

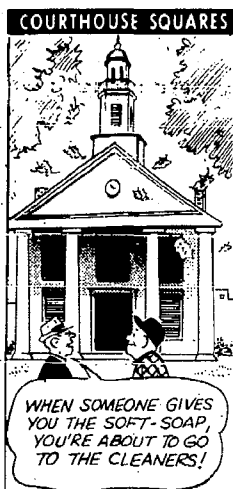

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the building principal will review applications, and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Paul Lerg, Business Manager - 403 Michigan Avenue, Grayling, or call 348-7641 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Each school and the office of the Superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

THINK SAFETY...
...Think Sunday

We can't miss them — these signs along the intersections of our streets. They protect our school children from physical harm. We see the sign ... and slow down.

Most of us are deeply concerned about the safety of our youngsters ... and these signs can be a reminder of a further obligation our society has to its youth. There are dangers in life for which only religious training and faith can prepare us.

Boys and girls approaching maturity deserve the spiritual protection which Christian education provides.

Whenever you approach a school crossing, slow down! But, just don't think safety — think SUNDAY!

That's because most homes are partially insulated. Some not at all. The cost for heating an uninsulated home is staggering. A saving of $100-$300 annually may be realized.

Why not let us show you the comfort and savings, YEAR after YEAR that Home Comfort Insulation can bring you. If your home is partially insulated or not at all, it will pay you to talk to our specialists.

Local Citizens Participate In Bridge Walk

Shown above is part of the group from Grayling that participated in the Labor Day Mackinaw Bridge Walk. Over 70 persons traveled to the Bridge with 60 of those walking the five miles and receiving their certificate.

The walkers traveled to the Bridge on the Senior Citizen bus, and several autos with the boys from Camp Shawono going on their own bus.

The weather was perfect for the walk and everyone returned to Grayling on your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period:
September 14 to September 20

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

Those little expenditures are throwing your budget off balance. Skip a "bargain" this week. Tighten up on your purse strings.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Something peculiar is going on, to put it mildly. It seems as though an event that takes place at a distance—will affect your mate or similar alliance.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

You've heard this before: The more light in your eyes, the blinder you become. So, review your relationship with the opposite sex. You're in for a surprise.

MOONCHILD
June 21-July 22

Your chart warns against speculative transactions. Furthermore, it's not wise to either loan or borrow money. You might review your check book, and keep the balance in mind.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

There's not much to tell that you don't already know. Because of your own pride—you'll find yourself engaged in an unproductive "cat and mouse" game.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Strange happenings and temptations might encourage you to risk areas that are unfamiliar. Don't be lured by a promise of exciting and new experiences.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Sorry! But, this week, you happen to be one of those people who want to tell the truth—at someone else's expense. There are things that should not be discussed.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

There's a possibility that persons in authority will be in your environment, this week. Some changes will be made, and there's nothing you can do about it.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

This happens to be one of those cosmic cycles when you'll enjoy hard work. Why? Well, you are going to see some tangible and pleasing results.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

A series of subtle events that culminate into a jolting experience, certainly won't make you the most pleasant person to be near. Anyway, you'll come out of it a little wiser.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

According to your chart, most members of your sign will undergo a mysterious experience. Which, incidentally, will never be explained. Don't worry about it!

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

You'll be in a tight spot. Nonetheless, you'll come up with some answers that will amaze, even you. Trapping you, this week, is not possible.

Can you really improve your gas mileage?

You sure can, if you'll follow these economy tips from NAPA.

Avoid fast starts.
Acceleration should be neither too fast nor too slow.

Drive smoothly.
Watch the traffic to avoid sudden stops or sudden bursts of power.

Drive a little slower.
The difference in travel time between 50 and 65 is very little. But, the difference in gas mileage is a lot.

Stay tuned.
A properly tuned car will get up to 10% better mileage than a poorly tuned car. It will also create less pollution.

Stay safe.
Have your car inspected regularly for worn or damaged parts. Getting there economically is important. But, getting there safely is more important.

These tips are brought to you by your local NAPA Dealer, where you'll find top-quality NAPA parts. Safe driving tips and safe driving replacement parts are two ways we say, "Let's Be Responsible."

Those planning to attend should write to the Operations and Training Division, 379th Combat Support Group, Wurtsmith AFB, Mich. 48753. Those desiring to call about the picnic, or make reservations by phone, may call Area Code 517-739-2011 and ask for Ext. 2424. All reservations must be received by Sept. 10.

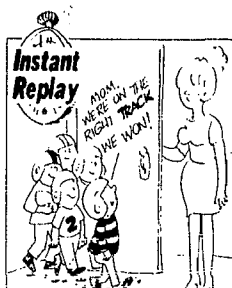

Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish to share along with plates, cups and silverware. The base will furnish the beans, hot dogs and refreshments.

Those desiring may bring lawn chairs or blankets due to the shortage of picnic tables at the beach area.

Facilities For Handicapped Go Into Highway Rest Areas

LANSING—New symbol signs portraying a person seated in a wheelchair have been erected on Michigan highways at locations in advance of rest areas having special restroom facilities for the handicapped.

The 36-inch-by-36-inch, silver-on-blue signs appear one mile in advance of rest areas with the special facilities; and again at the rest area exit sign. In both instances, the wheelchair sign, an internationally recognized symbol, is affixed on top of and in the center of the rest area sign.

Most of Michigan's existing rest areas do not have the special facilities for the physically handicapped, but all future rest area facilities, as well as existing ones scheduled for modernization, will have the special features.

Barrier-free facilities include ramps instead of steps, three-foot door widths, over-size compartments, hand rails and grab bars, special wash basins with space underneath for a wheelchair, lowered mirrors and lowered public telephones.

The Department of State Highways and Transportation said more than 20 such facilities are now on the state highway system.

Leadership Roundup On Sept. 13

by Willard Bosserman, County Extension Director

Leadership roundup for youth leaders is slated for Saturday, September 13th. It will be held in the Ralph MacMullen Conservation School at Higgins Lake, starting time is 9:30 a.m. closing at 3:00 p.m. Each person should bring their own sack lunch.

Although the roundup has been designed for 4-H club leaders, other leaders of young people can get some ideas for their groups.

The very first item on the program is a slide program explaining the 4-H club program. This will be followed by a group dynamic game which Merrill Baldwin has used with other groups in northern Michigan.

"You've Got the Kids, Now What?" is the title to a part of the program which follows. I will give new leaders ideas of how to get a new club organized, what to expect from the members and what the members will expect from the leader. I will outline the procedures of organizing a new club.

After having lunch on the shore of beautiful Higgins Lake, we will have "Select-A-Session". These sessions will give more "how to do it" for specific projects. Winter Horse Club Activities will be one session. Jack Worthington, Michigan State University 4-H staff will be present to teach photography. Sharon Fritz, Extension Home Economist, from Oscoda and Alcona counties will have you cooking Korean style.

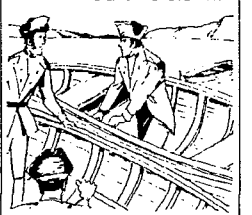

Merrily Baldwin, Extension Home Economist for Crawford and Roscommon Counties, will teach basic clothing construction techniques.

Theresa Frankowski 4-H program assistant, will teach sand painting. Betty Webb, 4-H program assistant will show the leaders how to teach block printing and pottery. Mrs. Carol Garlo will have a session on macrame. Jerry Malosh and I will give wood working leaders some pointers on leading handicraft clubs.

It is a well rounded training session for new and more experienced leaders.

Frustrated in plans to invade Canada from Ticonderoga, Benedict Arnold in September found his mission to follow the Kennebec River route in danger. Much green pine was used in construction of boats at Gardinerstown.

They were heavy for portage (400 pounds) and he knew the green wood would soon spring leaks. Undaunted, however, the force began an expedition which would greatly help unite the colonies.

tary schools throughout the 19-county Council area.

Cub and Scout-age boys are invited to bring their parents to their neighborhood school that night to hear the Scouting program outlined by local Scout leaders and to enroll in Cub packs or Scout troops for the 1975-76 year.
